Do you want to improve your English?

Do you want an adventure in Kazakhstan?

We are looking for a driver/translator to drive our support vehicle and help with logistics for the riders and horses on the Long Horse Ride.

The Long Horse Ride is a journey from Beijing to London between the 2008 and 2012 Olympics, raising money for charity on its journey. It is also a long distance first, having already been the first ride to complete the whole of the Great Wall of China

The Ride will be leaving from Kyzylorda in early April heading towards Atyrau. The Ride will finish in June 2011.

Ideally we would like someone to be with us for the full journey, however we are happy to hear from people who can only offer us a couple of weeks at a time.

The volunteer will have all their transportation paid for, accommodation and food, as well as a modest daily rate.

The volunteer would have to be ready to camp and live rough – but this is a great adventure and would provide an excellent opportunity to practice and improve spoken English as the riders are all native English speakers.

Look out our website www.thelonghorseride.com to see where we have been and where we are going.
